Big Deal at Panola.

A big deal was consummated at Panola last week when the L. Hooker Lumber Company, a large concern, took over the plant of the Madison Jackson-Estill Lumber Company. The price, while private, involved several thousand dollars. The old firm and now, are extensive dealers in hardwood, pine and poplar lumber and railroad ties. That the new firm will sustain the splendid reputation maintained by the old, is needless to say.

Home Talent Minstrels

In about two weeks there will be given in this city, at the Opera House, an old-time minstrel show, and those who enjoy real fun and a good hearty laugh should get themselves in readiness to attend. The show will be given by "home talent," of which Richmond has some of the best minstrel characters to be found in the U. S. A. Messrs. Leo Keller and Clarence Hicks have the work in charge, which is a sufficient guarantee it will be a first-class entertainment.

Parent-Teachers Association.

The Parent-Teachers Association met on Friday afternoon at the usual place and enjoyed a very interesting program which was given by Prof. Dutcher, whose subject was: "Self Control as a Basis of Right Conduct," by Mrs. John Arnold, who discussed "Manners," and concluded with Dr. C. O. Kelley's talk on the "Teachers Influence." The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mesdames R. J. McKee, R. E. Sallee, and M. F. Earlight. The attendance was the largest in the history of the Association, which fact speaks well for its progress.

Splendid Program.

A splendid program has been arranged for the eighth session of the Kentucky Conference of Charities and Corrections, which convenes in Lexington, November 3-5. A number of speakers of national reputation and many of the foremost social workers in the country will be in attendance. As this Conference will be of great importance to the social and moral uplift of our State, we sincerely hope that Richmond and Madison county will be well represented at the meeting. For the benefit of our readers we will state that everyone interested in the social welfare and moral betterment of all mankind is eligible to membership, and can attend as a delegate. All sessions of the Conference will be held at the Phoenix Hotel. The program is an ideal one, and we regret that space forbids us printing it in full. If possible, please try to attend one or more meetings of this great Conference, as you will be amply rewarded for your time and the expense incurred.

Bright Prospects

Two big railroads report better business this year than last. The Pennsylvania's net income for the first eight months of 1915 shows an increase of $5,523,000 over the corresponding period of 1914. For the same months the New York Central reports a net gain of $8,872,000. Total operating revenues of both roads for August are well in advance of figures for the same month last year. Shippers on the Great Lakes are getting bigger cargoes of grain and ore than they can handle and freight rates are going up.

The steel trade, which shares with the railroads the distinction of chief prosperity indicator, is too overhauled to talk about itself. Pittsburgh banks declare that the October pay for industries in that section will amount to $32,000,000—more than $1,000,000 a day.

Factors in the west will market crops estimated by James J. Hill to be worth $10,000,000,000. The South, if we may believe Editor Edmunds, of the Manufacturer's Record, has seen the promise of such good times since the recovery from the panic of 1907. The iron and steel industry is crowded. Cotton mills are enlarging their plants. This year's cotton crop, together with the surplus from last year, is being absorbed at advancing prices. Cities along the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf are spending big sums on improving their port facilities. And with a grain crop of 340,000,000 bushels over that of last year, the South has convinced itself that there is profit in something besides cotton.—New York World.

She Knows What She Wants

The well informed housekeeper insists upon using only a baking powder which is made of cream of tartar. She might read in an advertisement or be told that alum and lime phosphate, which are used as inferior substitutes in cheap baking powders, were all right in the quantities used but she would not buy them or permit them to enter her kitchen. Why?

Because she knows that cream of tartar has always been accepted as the most wholesome agent, with soda, for raising cake and biscuit, and she wants a baking powder made of cream of tartar, like Royal.

This conclusion is the result of unconscious absorption, either her own or her mother's, of the opinions of the highest authorities on hygiene and home cooking.

The prudent housekeeper, when she uses baking powder, reads the names of the ingredients printed on the label. She knows what she wants.

Club Notes.

At the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon a large and enthusiastic gathering was present to hear Mrs. Thomas D. Chennault, of Kentucky, sing. Before her marriage, Mrs. Chennault was Miss Katherine Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hart, of this city, and she has a voice of rare sweetness and range. Mrs. A. W. Martenstein accompanied Mrs. Chennault and played with great delicacy of touch and sympathy. The following program was given: "After a Dream," "Roumanian Night Song," "Banjo Song," "Uncle Nod," "Come Into the Garden, Maud," "As an Eagle," Mrs. Chennault was requested to sing again "Uncle Nod." The usual informal reception followed the program, and Mrs. W. C. Bentley presided at the coffee table and Mrs. Edgar Lafferty served tea.—Richmond (Va.) News-Leader, Oct. 25, 1915.

Governor McCreary's Reception to the D. A. R.

Perhaps not in the history of Kentucky has a more brilliant and beautiful reception been given, than that on Wednesday evening at the Executive Mansion, by Governor James B. McCreary, to the Daughters of the American Revolution. This reception was the last official entertainment which the Governor will give, and it was indeed, a fitting climax to his splendid administration.

The stately mansion presented a scene of marvelous beauty enhanced by the florist's art and the presence of beautiful women and gallant men.

The presentations were made by Francis Douglas, while in the receiving line with Governor McCreary were: Mrs. Walter Scott Gore, of Danville, State Regent; Mrs. W. H. Thompson, of Lexington, Vice-President General; Miss Blackburn, of Bowling Green, State Vice Regent; Mrs. J. C. Bailey, Regent of the Susanna Hart Shelby Chapter; Mrs. William Lindsey, Regent of the Frankfort Chapter; Mrs. Morris Gifford, of Louisville; Mrs. Samuel J. Shackelford, Mrs. Sherman Goodpastor, of Frankfort, and Mrs. Isaac Van Meter, of Lexington.

Other notable guests of the evening were: Mrs. R. C. Ballard Thurston, Past President General of the S. A. R., who that morning delivered his splendid address on "The Origin of the Flag"; Colonel Bennett H. Young, Mrs. Yager, wife of Governor Yager, of Porto Rico, and the following State Regents and Vice-State Regents, Mrs. Christopher D. Chennault, Mrs. Ben Johnson, Mrs. James W. Caperton, Mrs. E. G. Boone, Mrs. S. S. Watkins, Mrs. Baile Ewing Marshall Hardy, Mrs. A. R. Burnam, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith, Ex-President of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Wm. F. Barrett.

The decorations in the State dining room were most elaborate and beautiful, while throughout the reception rooms and hall, floor vases filled with white chrysanthemums and roses, ferns and baskets of flowers, were effectively used. The large tapestries covered with a cloth of blue lace over crimson satin crossed by streamers of blue; in the center, was a red basket of glass candy, filled with white chrysanthemums and tied with a bow of blue tulle. At the four corners of the table the cloth was draped with a spray of white roses and smilax. Surrounding the basket were silver candelsticks holding white tapers and shaded with crimson chrysanthemums. At each end of the table were silver vases filled with white roses. The elaborate menu of salads and ices carried out the idea in the patriotic colors, the latter being fashioned in the form of battlestars, flags and cannon, while the caterer's skill was further shown in the exquisite cakes bearing these emblems.

Throughout the evening the orchestra at the end of the ball room furnished sweet music for the dancers, two of whom, Miss Spurr, of Lexington, and Mr. Freeman of New York, delighted the guests with their exhibition dancing.

Among the many regal and beautiful gowns we have only been able to give those in the receiving line: Mrs. Gore, wore an imported gown of silver brocade and tulle. Diamonds Mrs. Thompson, Butsels lace, over black satin. Diamonds, Miss Blackburn, lavender brocade chiton, real lace. Mrs. Bailey, a gown of black satin, embroidered in silver. Diamonds. Mrs. Gifford, wore lovely crepe de chine with real lace, and carried roses. Mrs. Lindsey, black jetted tulle over black silk. Diamonds. Mrs. Samuel Shackelford wore chrysanthemum, real lace. Pearls. Mrs. Van Meter, white brocade satin, silver lace. Diamonds. Mrs. Goodpastor, imported gown of pink satin embroidered in silver.

Among the many lovely functions given in honor of the D. A. R., none were more charming than the reception on Tuesday evening by the Frankfort Chapter, and the luncheon on Wednesday, by the Susanna Hart Shelby Chapter. No effort had been spared to make these entertainments a success, and the result more than justified the reputation of the Frankfort ladies for their cordial hospitality and charming courtesy.

To Mrs. Bailey, the Regent, and members of the Susanna Hart Shelby Chapter, to Mrs. Lindsey, Regent of the Frankfort Chapter, and her associate members; to the graceful and attentive Pages, a vote of appreciation and thanks is extended by the Boonesborough Chapter, of Richmond. A. D. L.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Chennault entertained very charmingly the Euchre Club on Saturday evening. Eight tables were used in the games and three lovely prizes were given: the first going to Mrs. R. C. Stockett, the others to Mrs. Warfield Bennett and Mr. Cobb. The evening closed with a delightful meal course.

Miss Mollie Fife will be hostess of the Main Street Bridge Club this afternoon at her home on Lancaster Ave.

Mrs. H. B. Hanger, was hostess of the Cecilia Club on Wednesday afternoon at her beautiful country home, "Arlington." The subject, McDowell, was made a source of real delight, when put into the hands of the following members: Mesdames H. B. Hanger, M. C. Kellogg, S. J. McGaughey, I. G. Ballard, A. K. Denney and Misses Pickles, Watts, Caperton, Telford and Bennett.

Many pretty affairs were given in compliment to the Misses Marshall during their recent visit to Miss Jamie Caperton and Miss Olive Baldwin. On Sunday Miss Caperton was hostess of a lovely dinner; on Saturday, Miss Baldwin entertained, and on Monday Miss Madge Burnam gave a charming luncheon.

Miss Dorothy Perry entertained in honor of Miss Marie Louise Kellogg's visitors on Sunday evening. Covers were laid for twelve and an elaborate menu was served. Those present were: Misses Kellogg, Landsberg, Shelby, Rott and McMurry and Messrs. Curt Corzilius, Thompson Burnam, George Walker, Spears Turley, Cecil Simmons, Edward Stockett and Hart Perry.

Two delightful Halloween parties were given on Thursday and Friday evening at the Model School building. The first was for the High School boys and girls and the second evening the Normal School entertained. The rooms were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, pumpkins, and other emblems which were most attractive. Gingerbread, cider, toasted marshmallows, and nuts together with black witches, fortunes, and games made the hours speed all too quickly.

MARRIED

We clip the following complimentary notice of the marriage of a popular young couple from a Shirley, Ill. paper: "Miss Bertha Maupin and John G. Muttley, both well known young people of Shirley, were united in marriage yesterday, at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Maupin. Rev. Mr. Borop performed the ceremony in the presence of about thirty guests. The bride wore a dress of white crepe de chine and carried bride's roses. The ring ceremony was used. A wedding breakfast followed, after which the couple departed on a wedding trip, which will take them to Lexington, Ky. On their return they will make their home in Shirley, where the groom is a rural mail carrier." Mr. T. L. Maupin is an ex-Madisonian and one of our valuable subscribers. He has many relations and friends in this community who, with the Climax-Madisonian, extend hearty congratulations to the happy young couple.

Fires.

Saturday night about 9:30 o'clock the fire department was called to the residence of Mr. George W. Goodloe on the Summit. Before the fire ladders were burned the barn on the rear of the lot was burned to the ground with its contents, entailing a loss of about $600, with no insurance. The building was a frame structure and within ten minutes from the time the fire was discovered by a neighbor, it was reduced to ashes. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Sunday morning about 2 o'clock the fire department responded to a call from Fairview street, in the eastern part of the city, to the home of Mrs. Howard Coyle. When the department reached the scene the fire had made such headway that the "boys" were powerless to check the flames. Mrs. Coyle was away from home when the fire broke out and the household effects and building were a total loss. Mrs. Coyle is an aged widow woman and the loss falls heavily upon her.

Sunday at noon another alarm of fire was turned in and great excitement prevailed in our midst, owing to the dry weather and the high winds prevailing. The people living on the Summit were greatly alarmed when a dense smoke was seen apparently from their residences. It was discovered, however, that the fire was in a stubble field on the farm of Mr. John R. Gibson adjoining the city. The fire department assisted a force of men in fighting the fire, which was soon under control, with comparatively little damage done.

Millions in Toys

It is said that orders for $20,000,000 worth of toys are held up because Germany can't deliver them. Why not start a movement and induce Santa Claus to locate his toy shops in America, thus giving employment to thousands of workmen?

THE Texas Wonder turkey is a beautiful bird, with a large head, a long neck, and a large body. It is a very good eating bird, and is very popular in the South. It is a very good eating bird, and is very popular in the South. It is a very good eating bird, and is very popular in the South.

NOTES FROM EASTERN.

The school was delighted one morning recently to have at Chapel a musical recital by Miss M. Eva Wright, the new teacher in piano and voice culture. Miss Wright gave some exquisite selections, both instrumental and vocal, and charmingly revealed to the school for the first time her vocal accomplishments. She is a very highly accomplished musician and the Normal community appreciates her talent.

Mrs. Mary R. Deane recently made an address at the rural school in Jessamine county where she taught school many years ago.

Secretary J. P. Culbertson returned last week from a fortnightly vacation with relatives in Michigan. He made the round trip on his motor cycle without accident.

The $25,000 damaged suit brought by Godfrey Jackson's administrator against the Elk Coal Company, was tried in the Bell Circuit Court the first of the week, resulting in a verdict for the Coal Company. Jackson commenced suit about a year after he left the employ of the Company, and the suit was instituted against the Company by his administrator, claiming that the deceased had contracted an illness from bad air in the mine, which was responsible for his having taken his life.—Pineville Sun.
